

Employee Leave Policy 2026-2027

Policy code: EMPLOYEE_LEAVE_2026_2027 | Status: Draft | Effective period: 01 Apr 2026 to 31 Mar 2027

1. Purpose

This draft defines annual leave components, eligibility, accrual, lapse and carry-forward rules for eligible employees. Each leave component is administered independently so that one component does not inherit another component's balance or eligibility behavior.

2. Leave components

Leave type	Entitlement / accrual	Carry forward	Primary eligibility
Casual Leave	6 days per policy year; annual grant	No; unused balance lapses at year end	Eligible active employees
Earned Leave	1.5 days per completed month	Yes; maximum 30 days	Eligible active employees after confirmation
Sick Leave	6 days per policy year	No; unused balance lapses at year end	Eligible active employees; evidence may be required
Maternity Leave	182 calendar days, subject to applicable law	Not applicable	Eligible female employees
Paternity Leave	15 calendar days per eligible event	Not applicable	Eligible male employees
Menstrual Leave	1 day per month; maximum 12 days per policy year	No; unused balance lapses monthly/year end	Eligible female employees
Bereavement Leave	5 days per eligible family bereavement	Not applicable	Eligible active employees
Birthday Leave	1 day during the employee birthday month	No; unused entitlement lapses	Eligible active employees

3. Rule isolation

Rules are linked to one or more selected leave types. For example, the Earned Leave carry-forward rule applies only to Earned Leave. Casual, Sick, Menstrual and Birthday Leave balances do not carry forward. Gender eligibility is maintained as an applicability condition for the corresponding leave type and does not affect unrelated leave components.

4. General conditions

Leave requests remain subject to available balance, required evidence, manager approval, statutory requirements and operational needs. Where applicable law provides a more beneficial entitlement, the legal entitlement will prevail. Unauthorized absence and false evidence may be handled under the applicable conduct process.

5. Administration and version control

This document is attached to a Draft policy version and is visible to employees. The approved and published version, its rules, applicability conditions and checksum become immutable. Any later amendment must be made through a new Draft version and the normal review and publication workflow.